My dear Kalyanasundaram,

I rejoice indeed that an influential Committee is making efforts to Celebrate the 80th Birthday of Your Great father. The Tamil Country would be only honoring itself by honoring Such a great Scholar and Writer. In other lands Statues would be erected to Commemorate the Services of a public worker of that stamp and in our own Country in ancient times, extensive "Manyams" would have been Sanctioned. Times are changed. Conditions are peculiar. We must take things as they Come. I wish all Success to the efforts of the Good Committee. God bless the movement! I will do most gladly what little I can. With profoundest respects to your revered father & best wishes to you

Yours most affly
R. Swaminatha Aiyar
